I have lived in Jesmond Vale (Kimberley Gardens) for the past 25 years. In all that time it has been part of Jesmond. Indeed, back in the 19th century the area was Jesmond Park and our house is built on part of the footprint of Jesmond Park House. Yet your new plans propose moving us out of Jesmond. Why? Culturally this area is very much part of Jesmond and always has been. We shop in Jesmond, we go to pubs and restaurants in Jesmond. We work in Jesmond, we socialise in Jesmond. We have no connection to Shieldfield or, indeed, Ouseburn. Our area is residentially very diverse, with students, young professionals and lots of families, many of the children go to West Jesmond Primary. We share the concerns and issues faced by the rest of Jesmond - parking, ASB, HMOs, etc. The proposed boundary lines demote the cultural heritage of the area to the preference of a cartographer's brutal, imperialistic lines. Please, keep us within Jesmond where we belong.
