Up till 1974 Newburn Urban District Council was the centre of local government in this area. After amalgamation into the City Council the ward became Newburn, Throckley and Walbottle. In recent years it became Throckley and Callerton. Now you proposing Throckley and Walbottle ward. But no mention of Newburn despite the council website saying, 'the 3 villages are intrinsically linked together'. Please add Newburn to the ward name to show the village does exist and in recognition of the former NUDC, also historically at one time Newburn was bigger, older and more important than Newcastle!!
