With the development of the new super prison nearly complete, I would question the suitability of Full Sutton remaining in the Market Weighton council area. Whilst I cannot question the hard work and support provided to the local village by the existing councillors, I wonder whether it would be more suitable for the area to be under the same council as Stamford Bridge and Pocklington, given most of the issues we face will be similar to those in these areas and also being part of a smaller council means we may get the additional support we'll require once the prison opens.
