Related subject: Burton and Holme

The ward is Burton and Holme, so it would seem logical to me that it covers the parishes of Burton-in-Kendal and Holme, nowhere else. People in this area have already endured a unitary authority/council boundary review and rename, followed by a constituency boundary review causing many of us to be moved from Westmorland and Lonsdale to Morecambe and Lunesdale, both of which are still causing confusion. Isn't it time decision makers stopped messing around with boundaries and just let us get on with life in our local communities?
