Related subject: Langport and Huish Episcopi

Langport is a very busy market town totally enclosed by the River Parrett on one side and the parish of Huish Episcopi on the other. This means there are no prospects for expansion, either business-wise or house building-wise.

Huish have no amenities and is to all intents and purposes a dormitory parish for all the major towns in Somerset and beyond.

The 2 councils have agreed that a merger would make perfect sense which has been confirmed by a poll taken a year or so ago.

As I understand it, both councils are working very hard to make the merger happen.

All that I ask is that whatever the boundaries become please ensure that Langport and Huish Episcopi are considered 'as one'.
