You have made this ward/division too large by area, making it over 60 miles from top to bottom, and with many parish councils it would be very difficult to administer by any councillor. Also, by adding Beckwithshaw and North Rigton (both in the Skipton) to Pannal (Harrogate and Knaresborough) means crossing the constituency boundary, and each represented at different area committees.

With the number of parish councils that actively meet in the evenings, plus the daytime North Yorkshire meetings you are precluding most working people from ever standing for such a ward.

My suggestion would be to keep Washburn and Birstwith as is, .
