WPC disagrees with the boundary commissions proposal for revised divisional boundaries in the area of North Yorkshire between Harrogate and York in which our parish of Whixley sits. The proposal is for Whixley to be in a long thin division running east to west from the edge of York in the east to parishes located to the north of Knaresborough.

This doesn't reflect the way our local area functions and the parts of this division at its extremities would not share the same issues as Whixley and the surrounding villages.

This area functions more on a north south axis running south from Boroughbridge to Tockwith and WPC shares many more issues with Marton-cum-Grafton, the Ouseburn's, the Hammerton's, Cattal and Tockwith.

WPC supports the proposal suggested by our existing local councillor which would see Whixley in a division with the Hammerton's, Cattal and Tockwith. Ideally this would include Marton-cum Grafton and the Ouseburn's as well.
