Related subject: Bidston & St James ward

Bidston St James first - the name makes NO sense... I live right near St James church just off Tollemache and the name does not reflect the community. No one knows what 'st James is' apart from the church but the ward goes all the way to basically Conway Park station. The ward should absolutely be called Bidston & Birkenhead North - it just makes much more common sense. The train station 2 minutes from my house and 1 minute from St James is called bloody Birkenhead North. If you ask any of us where we live we say 'the north ends' or Birkenhead north. It's much more accurate to name this ward Bidston & Birkenhead North and represents the ward from each end. Please please bloody change this name
