Comment text:

I believe the boundaries are non-sensical around small towns. For example, I live 60 seconds by car from the boundary of the Ross-on-Wye West ward. My nearest shops and services are in Ross-on-Wye. All the services I use are within Ross-on-Wye, but technically I have no voice there.

Ironically if I wanted to become a Ross-on-Wye Town Councillor I could do, because I live 1/2 mile from a ward boundary, and the limit is half a mile.

I take a keen interest in the town, and have run a project in the summer of 2025 to promote its businesses and re-invigorate the town centre called Summer Buzz Ross-on-Wye.

The 3 ward councillors of Ross-on-Wye would be better held to account if there was one Ross-on-Wye and District style area with one County Councillor.

The Ross-on-Wye County Councillors are ineffective and run a closed-shop when any accountability is sought from them. Their lack of effective work, and political self-interest are put above the needs of Ross-on-Wye. They represent terrible value for money. I believe one Ross-on-Wye and District County Councillor would be much more value for money for the public purse.

I am deeply concerned.
