Related subject: Hurworth ward, including Neasham and the proposed expanded ward boundaries.

Neasham Parish Council supports the proposed expanded boundaries for Hurworth ward.

Whilst Neasham has always been a separate village from Hurworth, the ward itself has historically been known as Hurworth. We therefore feel it would be sensible for the ward name to remain as Hurworth, as this would help maintain a clear shared identity and support overall community cohesion.

This would also mean that newer areas, including Elderbrook and Hurworth Gardens, along with any future developments within the ward, are included under one consistent ward identity rather than creating separate names for different parts of the same ward.

We also note that there are no proposed changes to Neasham's parish boundaries.
