I'm a resident of Derwenthorpe and the proposed changes would split our estate across three wards. The estate has a distinct identity, strong community and specific issues and opportunities which require collective representation. For instance, we are currently experiencing issues with ASB and we would find it far more difficult and confusing if residents have to raise matters with multiple councillors across different wards and expect a coordinated response. It would complement our efforts for social cohesion and collective action on the estate if all residents were in the same ward and could develop strong relationships with our local councillors.
