I live on the Derwenthorpe estate. These proposals would see the estate split across three different wards. As a new estate that looks a bit different and with a lot of communal green space (that we share with our neighbours, it has it's own identity and a very strong sense of community, with many social groups and activities. See our website <https://derwenthorpe.co.uk/> We also have a residents' association representing everyone on the estate, and a governing group made up of residents and JRHT staff. To split the estate in this way would not benefit anyone on the estate, and indeed may make it more difficult to address issues that effect the estate, for residents, JRHT and indeed local councillors and local council staff. I understand the need to "balance the numbers" in various wards, but I feel very strongly that the whole Derwenthorpe estate should be in the same ward. Also, naming one ward Tang Hall and Derwenthorpe is very misleading and will lead to confusion, as it only includes the Lotherington quarter which comprises 120 dwellings out of the whole almost 500 dwellings on the Derwenthorpe estate.
