I am concerned about the splitting of Derwentwenthorpe (New Heworth Without Area) as the area is currently known which is currently a JRHT estate. If it is split between council member areas I feel that there won't be a significant improvement for these dwellers who have already struggled with their landlord. They would be better off served under one strong councillor alongside other people living nearby. Residents are coming to other areas for play because their park has been closed due to vandalism. I would also suggest an odd number for councillors so that you don't constantly get a 24:24 impasse vote which could happen. Our council has had NOC and sort alliances of many parties for many years.
