Comment text:

We recently purchased and moved into a property on Langley Gate in Upper Poppleton specifically because it is part of the Poppleton community. At the time of purchase, the property's location within Upper Poppleton was an important factor in our decision and formed part of our understanding of the area in which we intended to establish our long-term family home.

We do not believe there is a clear justification for altering the existing boundary in a way that would place our property within Acomb. Our household identifies strongly with Poppleton, and our local connections, community engagement, and use of local facilities are centred there.

In addition, our decision to purchase this property was made with reference to local educational provision, including the current primary school catchment arrangements. The proposed boundary change could affect access to our preferred local primary school and would therefore have a direct impact on future family planning considerations.

We are concerned that the proposal would alter the recognised identity of our property and weaken its connection to the community with which it has historically been associated. For these reasons, we respectfully object to the proposed boundary change and ask that the existing boundary be retained.
