Related subject: Heslington/Wheldrake Ward Boundary

Given the Langwith Garden Village proposal to build 3,300 houses on the former RAF Elvington base adopted in CYC's Local plan it would make sense if the Ward/Parish Boundaries for Heslington and Wheldrake Ward / Elvington Parish were amended so that the new development fell with the Wheldrake Ward / Elvington Parish boundaries. This proposal is to to aid cohesion between the existing village of Elvington and Langwith as they are 1/2 mile apart as opposed to Heslington Parish (in which it currently sits) which has no road links to the new development and is 2.5 miles away as the crow flies. The new development will share a single road into York (B1228) until at least 1,000 houses are built to this amendment would assist as no doubt there will be conflict between the existing and new and having them both under a single ward/parish would help matters.
