I object strongly to this change. Westfield Ward covers several similar areas, and the current councillor is excellent at knowing those needs and addressing them. The proposals mix poorer and wealthier areas together, and I can't see that working. For example, where I live has nothing in common with Woodthorpe, whereas we have a lot in common with other residents of the current Westfield Ward. I don't see how the needs of an area can be adequately met when you're mixing areas that are very different. Why do you need to change what works well, unless there's a political motive behind it?
