I've been a resident of woodlands grove since the mid 1980s. My children and now my grandchildren have attended Hempland Primary School and enjoyed the play facilities at Stray Road (they have also attended nursery at Christ Church. We have throughout the time we have lived here seen ourselves as part of that wider community. The Heworth ward is distinctly different clustered around East Parade, Heworth Church and Heworth School and extending out to Tang Hall and Bell Farm. The current boundaries well reflect these differences and should not be changed. Woodlands Straylands Westlands Elmlands and the Elm Park Estate have and always will be part of the wider Heworth without community and should remain in the ward.
