Most wards appear to serve an electorate of 6000 people or below. The carnage that is Welborne will need to be taken into account in the future, as well as other areas that the council has allowed massive housing programmes. According to the data (that we have to trust) given above, Portchester East appears to be expecting a massive increase in population. Not sure why. Stubbington, Park Gate and Locks Heath must surely be expecting equivalent massive growth.
