Based on the recommendations report, this makes sense, and I support the change to ensure a more even representation of electors. Unfortunately, the leaflet received through the door from Cllr Bayford and Cllr Daniellls presented no substantive reason or evidence why it should remain as it is. In some respects, their flyer needed to be more balanced, and it would have been beneficial if they had explained to their constituents why these changes had been proposed and clarified that the change would have no bearing on people's addresses or postcodes. Furthermore, it almost verges on the ridiculous to consider the public money spent on these minor tweaks and adjustments of intangible borders; let us not turn this into a turf war and waste even more time and money. Unless, of course, the incumbent counsellors are implying to disparage the incoming counsellors?
