The wards in Wisbech are very large and in particular the Wisbech Walsoken and Waterless Ward extends over a large area that have little in common. The North Ward has far more in common with Waterless than the area to the Far East. Ward names may well be confusing. Wisbech North was once a very large district Ward, to apply thus name to the shrunken Ward proposed is bizarre. Wisbech East would be a more appropriate name for the proposed Waterlees, Walsoken Ward, if it goes ahead. Riverside Ward has far less riverside than other wards. It is a confusing name. Perhaps central or even Nene would be better. The extensive use of three member wards makes the areas oversize and a better option would be two member seats.
