I think that the Parish Council boundaries should be considered at the same time to make them as similar as possible. This avoids confusion and overlap when a Borough Councillor reflects the wishes of their local community. A classic case is Lightmoor where part of the community is with the Gorge Parish Council and part Dawley Council but has Horsehay and Lightmoor Borough Councillors as their representatives. A similar issue occurs at Jackfield where part of the village is in Shropshire. The boundary should be realigned so that all of Jackfield is in one authority and logically this should be TWC. The Ironbridge Gorge Borough Council Ward is about to have a large amount of new housing so it could lose some of the properties currently in the Madeley Town Council ward to align the borough council boundaries with the Gorge Parish boundary. The logical boundary would be along Madeley Road and Ironbridge Road. There are very distinct settlements in this area together with the WHS and conservation area and their needs are quite distinct from some of the newer developments such as Lightmoor.
