Dear LGBD reviewers

I am writing to object to the reduction of wards in Bookham and Fetcham from 4 to 3 on the grounds that the plan fails to maintain the individual identities of Bookham and Fetcham. Although the area between the two villages is built up, the centre of the villages have their own individual characters. The new plan splits Bookham High Street with it's thriving shops into two wards. This will also make it more difficult for councillors to fulfil their roles, because they will have to get familiar with two different centres. And one High Street will have two separate councillors for each side of the road.

Best wishes
