Comment text:

This is probably a good thing as Southampton is such a mixed community. We live in Bitterne Park which up until now has has Conservative Councillor's. However where we live near Riverside Park nobody would dream of voting Conservative and mainly Labour. [REDACTED] allegedly hates this part of Bitterne Park and refers to it as the Peoples Republic of a Bitterne Park. With this in mind anything that promotes a greater degree of political representation would be a good thing.
