Change the ward names from "Bargate North" to "Banister Park" and "Bargate South" to "Bargate". Having a North and South works at Constituency level but too generic for Ward level names and too much of a mouthful. Its not easy for people to identify which is north and south. It would create too much confusion for the public, officers and members, the wards should have different names that are easier to identify and meaningful to residents. Also would encourage them to go out to vote. "Banister Park" ward would be a more appropriate name as it is a more accurate description of the leafy residential area just outside the city centre and is too far away from the Bargate monument to be meaningful. "Bargate" instead of "Bargate South" for the city centre surrounding the monument.
