Comment text:

I live in Northlands Road, which would now be Bargate North. I'm not sure my road has much in common with the massive student population in Archer's Road or The Polygon. I feel the professional and retirement communities would be served far better if they were split from the students. There is a massive difference between the needs of local homeowners and the needs of students renters who will typically be in the ward for three years or less. I feel we belong in Freemantle or a new Shirley South rather than Bargate North.
