There has been rumours locally that Hackwood farm estates in Mickleover would be moved into Mackworth. We're this true I would make representation against it. As a resident of 3 years it is safe to say we daily use Mickleover services but have been into Mackworth rarely other than to "rat run". Road and walking connectivity to Mackworth is also poor. More logical would be bringing the new housing outside Derby into the city and forming a ward out of that, which is obviously pie in the sky as such a minor change would need an act of parliament.
