It strikes me as very strange that Roedean gardens is split with one half in Davyhulme and one half in Flixton surely it would make more sense to at least have the whole of the road in one or the other. I would think it would make more sense to have the boundary run up from moorside Rd up Glenegales Rd and then North just past Daresbury Ave which would ensure the whole of the Woods End estate is in one parish rather than being split between two under these proposals which seems non-sensical.
