Comment text:

I have been a resident of Normandy since 1988 and I have always felt that the area has a very strong sense of identity and community spirit. I think it is absolutely right that the ward boundary should be contiguous with the parish boundary. As well as fitting our natural sense of community and identity, this is an efficient arrangement in terms of the relationship between borough and parish. Our Parish Councillors work very hard with no pay and very little support, and complicating the relationships by overlapping different wards / parishes would cause extra work and potential confusion. The current arrangement works very well and should therefore be retained.
