I am very much against the draft ward proposals for Southam area. Why is Southam being subdivided further? I feel this change fundamentally impacts my sense of identity in the region. Torn between so many boundaries. We are already difficult to physically view on OS maps and a multiway boundary system in the area seems pointless and damaging, not just to me personally but to our sense of community. I see this extra division as totally unnecessary and as having a negative impact on our community cohesion & wellbeing.
