i would like to object to Great Comberton moving from the Bredon ward. Great Comberton sits on the side of Bredon Hill along with its sister villages Little Comberton, Elmley Castle..... which it has been linked to through school catchment , when i grew up in the village and with a single vicar. Connections are strong within the villages and very limited with Eckington - which because of the river is not a natural village for us to visit or have contact with. Great Comberton is a rural village on the side of the hill and fits much more with the other villages - involvement in Bredon Hill conservation group. Great Comberton and Little Comberton are close to each other geographically - issues affection one village oftern affect the other one - (e.g. planning) fibre uptake - we are on the Elmley Castle Exchange. The only linkage with eckington is when the road floods at Eckington.
