As a long standing Wychavon councillor for Pinvin Ward I am glad to see that the original proposals for no boundary changes for the 4 parishes surrounding Throckmorton airfield remain as before. However the latest proposal to push Drakes Broughton, with strong links to Pershore, into a strung out 2 councillor ward linked with Norton/Littleworth which looks to Worcester city for it's services, comes as a shock. Drakes Broughton shared a county councillor with Pershore until 2005 and had a joint cemetery committee. The numbers worked out fine in the previous proposal for 3 separate wards. The three wards have very different characteristics and will be better represented individually by 3 councillors. Drakes Broughton village has grown in size but is no way urban in nature and is distant from Worcester City. I support the first set of proposals!
