Bearing in mind the proposed 'New Towns' of SWDP it seems an inappropriate time to be changing ward boundaries in the area. Far better to wait and see what changes the new plans when finalised will create. If however there is no margin for changing the current proposal I would comment it is hard to express a view without having some idea of the thoughts of the Boundary Commission but if we are not to be offered these I would suggest Drakes Broughton Ward remains as it is as, despite the increased housing in Drakes Broughton it remains an essentially rural area with limited resources, poor public transport off the main highways and a general reliance on good community support for help.
