I am less concerned about ward boundaries than I am about parish boundaries. I live at Woodland village (██████). Half of the village falls into Woodland Parish, and the other in Lynesack and Softley Parish. I live within the Lynesack and Softley boundary – Woodland Primary School, the parish church and Edge Hotel also fall within Lynesack and Softley, despite clearly being located within the built up area of Woodland village. This means that my neighbours and I have to travel to neighbouring Copley to vote, and our parish precept pays for play parks, floral displays and other community resources in Butterknowle, Copley and Lynesack, but none of our cash goes to amenities in the village in which we actually live.
