I feel the current arrangement is the most obvious boundary and best way of developing and maintaining a level of community cohesion vital in a an area like Alnwick and the surrounding district. Having 2 councillors working on behalf of one community, I feel, leads to better representation and more possibility of consensus building in decision making. Splitting off Alnwick, Lesbury and Alnmouth does not seem to make practical sense as all the three areas and the people living there have a natural, familial, historic and practical link that these new proposals would undermine. Further, splitting Alnwick in two, as the proposal suggests, doesn't make any sense to those of us living here.
