The Bayston Hill element of the current Bayston Hill, Column and Sutton division is the only part of the triple member seat situated outside the Shrewsbury Town Council boundary. Its community links have grown along the Bayston Hill parish council boundaries, the hub for the entirety of the parish is Bayston Hill and none of the parish gravitates towards the adjacent communities of Hookagate, Meole or Condover. Therefore the Bayston Hill electoral division should mirror the parish council boundary. At present, St Martins School is close to the edge of the St Martins electoral division. The school and the village itself should remain within the same division. If St Martins division must reduce in size, then Duddeston Heath should move into The Meres division. To compensate for this, Harmer Hill, Myddle and Broughton parish should move into the Tern division. It is likely that Bridgnorth will need to be divided into three seats. Bridgnorth is its own distinct community and it would be inappropriate for a Bridgnorth seat to be combined with part of Worfield for example as these separate communities are considerably different and do not share the same issues or priorities. The Weir Hill development is already a considerable size and will grown over the lifetime of these boundaries. Weir Hill looks west towards the rest of Shrewsbury Town and should therefore form an urban division (and remain within the Shrewsbury Town boundary), if Weir Hill were included with an otherwise rural division it would work poorly for both sides of the divide.
