I live in Broughton. Burton is not considered to be "close" or indeed have anything in common. We move generally towards Maswley or Rothwell for services. Our feeder schools are in Rothwell or Kettering, not Burton, and make it difficult for us to access schools for free transport in Rothwell. For example we have choices, but only get free transport to 1 in Kettering (2 if you are religious) therefore are ward with Burton makes no sense. Our doctors are in Mawsley, and Great Carsnley feeds into our primary school too, so it would make more sense to put us in that ward. Plus we are rural, whereas Burton is a town, there are no bus services to Burton from Broughton so we have been lumped with them. Also, I work in the Thrapston area. The part which includes Lutton should be in Oundle. And a new ward formed for the Kingscliffe/ Duddington as that is too far from Oundle
