I would like to understand how these proposed wards have been created - is it by population/voter numbers? I feel uneasy about the proposed new larger wards, for example Barkham & Arborfield ward. These are two distinct areas which have separate local issues, and I feel merging them in this way may mean the issues will not be fully understood or represented by the Councillor. Although there may be financial considerations around reducing Councillor numbers, I think we should increase rather than reduce Councillor numbers given the amount of work the Council needs to accomplish.
