Comment text:

I find it hard to believe that there is any advantage to the residents of the county with the change in boundaries other than creating further political jobs that can only be paid for by the residents via increased council tax. In a "time of financial crisis "as you put it in your emails to us residents where savings Need to be done , it is the residents that are picking up the bill. Not central government. I am sure that if you costed the proposed action and then asked the residents i am sure it would be a resounding NO
