As we are a more rural area than many within the Gateshead Council area, we have very different requirements to central Gateshead. The 3 villages each have their own character, needs and issues. In my opinion it would work better if one specific councillor were to champion one specific village. 3 Councillors is probably enough but it would work better if they each concentrated on a more specific community. It is a very large, spread out area so know in depth so whereas many issues may concern all, many do not and require a more in depth knowledge of the situation. General issues could be more common ground for whoever is free. Maybe monthly /bi-monthly surgeries could be held to discuss the village issues.
