Related subject: Todmorden and neighbouring civil parishes

The upper Calder Valley is quite linked and connected the current 2 wards that cover Todmorden suit it well under the 51 seat model, I do welcome however the 54 seat model, more and more balanced representation for people can only be a good thing. The Todmorden ward covers part approx 3/4 of Todmorden civil parish with the Calder ward covering the rest of Todmorden and the civil parishes of Erringden Blackshaw Wadsworth and Heptonstall as well as the town of Hebden Bridge in Hebden Royd civil parish. These civil parishes in the upper Calder Valley share a history and a community so electorally where possible representation should be kept as together as possible.
