I live in the Y03 area. It doesn't feel like Rickleton (Y01) is naturally part of this area at all, it is seperated by 2 significant boundaries. The Consett to Sunderland railway path and the A195 dual carriage way. It doesn't feel part of my community.

On the other hand, V01, the part that contains houses in Lambton definitely does feel like it. is part of this community, not a bit stuck onto Princess Anne Park.

To summarise, most people living in these areas consider Oxclose, Ayton and Lambton to be one large area.
