Related subject: Durham City (Shincliffe)

As a longstanding resident of Shincliffe, I , in common with other locals ,associate closely with the city for shopping, leisure, schools and medical practitioners and feel that this association should be reflected in our representation on the council. The old Leamside railway line forms a boundary separating the city from the outlying villages and as such we have always been part of the city. Most people in Shincliffe have hardly heard of the outlying villages, have certainly never been to them and as such have nothing in common with the people who live there and requirements for council representation are completely different. I therefore wholeheartedly support the proposal to add Shincliffe Parish to the current Elvet and Gilesge Division as I feel that demographically it would offer a much more appropriate and therefore fairer representation of the people of Shincliffe.
