I do hope that the Boundary Commission is not going to take Castle Bromwich out of SMBC. They have already altered the electoral boundaries and put Castle Bromwich into Hodgehill for voting purposes against the wishes of the electorate and going against the criteria which they were supposed to take into account when making their decision. I would like to see the SMBC local councillors ensuring that Castle Bromwich retains its identity of having initially grown up around 17th century Castle Bromwich Hall.

It is not Smiths Wood Chelmsley Wood or Kingshurst although many people who live in those areas oftensay they live in Castle Bromwich as do residents in Shard End and Bromford( completely different authority). Castle Bromwich needs promoting by its local councillors so that the other wards and the media understand where its boundaries are and what it's assets and problems are. It just cannot be lumped in with other areas in the northern part of Solihull and labelled the poor north of the borough because this is just not true. I am sorry to say that since 1974 there has been an us and them attitude by SMBC which has harmed Castle Bromwich and this needs to stop
