Related subject: Wincheap and Barton

Looking at the map it seems a little odd that the Oaten Hill/Upper Chantry Lane/Cossington Road area is part of Barton ward rather than Wincheap. There are many community links between there and the Nunnery Fields/Nunnery Road area, such as use of the local shops, chemist and hospitality establishments, and many neighbourhood friendships. New Dover Road feels like more of a "natural" border than the railway line when walking around the area.
